WALLA WALLA VALLEY WINE

2005 Otis Kenyon Syrah

Walla Walla Valley

The San Francisco Chronicle

Best of the West!

Three Stars!

Owners Stephen Kenyon and Deborah Dunbar put together their first vintage with help from winemaker Dave Stephenson, already known for his own Stephenson Cellars. It's a stunning debut, with waves of violet, anise, coriander and tangerine leading to ripe black cherry and subtle plum, with a mineral overlay and a juicy, salty profile. Largely sourced from the Cougar Hills vineyard, this is simply a fantastic Washington Syrah.

Seattle Metropolitan Magazine

The Top 100 Northwest Wines

Number 31!

Stephen Kenyon and Deborah Dunbar have named their wine after Stephen's grandfather – a legendary figure in Walla Walla lore. Taste Scents of lavender; complex mineral flavors. Sip tip There is a bit of the cowboy in this wine. Serve with a rib eye.
